Nera and Lucy are two sisters who live on the moon, and that's about all they have in common. All they can agree on is their Luna Fish, Moona—until Nera agrees to sell her to an aquarium. As the sisters set out to deliver Moona to her new home, they encounter dangers and obstacles that require them to work together and appreciate one another's talents. Flower-printed octopi and retro typography give this picture book a groovy flare.
